Why We're Different

-  Most supplements are supplied as oral products, either in the form of tablets, pills or chewable gummies & pastilles which are all digested.
-  Sublingual and tincture products are administered by placing a drop under your tongue, holding there for about a minute and then swallowing.
-  Topical supplements are typically administered by rubbing a cream or ointment into the skin to treat local symptoms.
-  Supplement vapes are becoming increasingly popular, although the quality and efficacy of vapes varies massively, and little or no quality control exists in the vape industry.
-  The British Health Patches approach is very different as all our core products are highly efficient Transdermal Natural Health Patches, NOT old fashioned oral, vape, or topical products.

Patch

Transdermal Patches have some very significant advantages over conventional delivery methods:

24-Hour Sustained Ingredient Delivery.

Precision Dosage Delivery – No Guesswork.

Easy To Remember To Take – Just Change Patch Daily.

Easy & Discreet to Apply.

No Additional Difficult Pills to Take, Particularly Important For the Older Generation.

No Messy Liquids to Swallow.

Ingredients Dispensed Directly Into the Bloodstream Avoiding Additional Liver Loading.

No Sugar or Calories.

No Fillers or Artificial Colouring.

Bypasses the Gastrointestinal Tract Which Absorbs a Significant Proportion of Ingredients.

"Because this method is a highly absorbable way of using CBD, I believe it will become more and more popular and may even eventually take over from CBD oil as a preferred method of CBD use."

"Our unique products are all manufactured in the UK to ISO 9000 standards using the highest-quality naturally occurring plant-based ingredients, and are laboratory tested to ensure purity and quality compliance."

"Our manufacturers recently conducted a survey of over two hundred customers and found that sixty-nine percent reported a reduction in musculoskeletal pain while seventy-four percent observed an increase in daily activities."

He has worked in the USA, Singapore and Hong Kong as well as Europe, so he has a broad and extensive knowledge of the ever changing markets and the nuances of emerging and new markets.

Nathan Nicholson

Partner Community Support

Nathan has over ten years' experience in building, supporting and mentoring high performing sales teams, having worked at BT and Virgin where he specialised in turning round poorly performing call centres. Nathan also worked in the software industry in the UK and USA where he successfully managed and grew remote sales teams.

Summary

Our extended team includes two doctors and a nutritionist holding a BSc in Human Nutrition, with ten years' experience working in the retail arm of the UK supplements industry.

Our unique products are made in Britain to ISO 9000 standards using naturally occurring plant-based ingredients & are laboratory tested to ensure purity & quality compliance. Our products are classed as food supplements & should not be confused with medicines.

According to Statista, the UK revenue in the health supplement market (Vitamins & Minerals) reached a staggering £630 million in 2024, with predicted annual growth of between 6.5% to 10% from now to 2029.

In the UK, 2.8m people under 35, 10.2m people between 35 and 64, and 7.4 m people 65 or over suffer from a musculoskeletal condition.

At British Health Patches we're passionate about helping people with common conditions live a better life using our unique Natural Health products and solutions which, when used regularly, have been proven to ease over 20 different physical and mental sufferings.

Unlike traditional supplement outlets, we don't promote our products over the internet or via the high street. This is because we want our Partners to provide a personal service to their customers backed by high-quality, unbiased advice.

This is where you fit in ...

We're looking for like-minded enthusiasts to join our Partner community to sell and promote our British Manufactured Natural Health Patches, earning a significant income whilst helping people you care about enjoy a higher quality of life.
